"E. C.," in the Sunday Gazette, refers to a former Governor of the District as follows: "Alexander R. Shepherd was the representative of the popular cause. A man of the people, his qualities were those of a great tribune. He wished to build up a National Capital not to be removed through enduring ages. To do this he taxed the bankers, the real-estate speculators; he made them feel for the first time the weight of burdens them feel for the first time the weight of burdens they had always theretofore put upon the poor. And they had a him. Under his sympathetic invorthe public schools maintained their forward movement; and these ex-slaveholders hated him for that. Enterprise and commerce began to grow; men of intelligence began to migrate to Washington; the waste-places of the city were covered with houses, and the eyes of the whole people were turned with interest and pride to what had been a strangiling Southern village. It is a great pity that the Governor's energy was not toned down by administrative experience and legal knowledge. His vigilant enemies profited by his mistakes; they put their arrows into every open point of his harness. But, whatever may have been his faults, he was nobler than the clique that brought him down. A gentleman who visited Richmond last week said that he understood the Bourbons had a scheme on foot which would carry dismay into the Readjuster camp. It was to buy up the nexro leaders in the various assembly districts at 2500 apiece, on the night before election. They calculated to purchase the negroes as readily as they could buy sheep, and by manipulating the leaders substitute Bourbon for Readjuster voices in the hands of the ignorant people at the poils. My informant added that the Bourbons had money enough to carry out their plans. By the direction of the Secretary of the the District-The Railroad Question. Lieutenant R. L. Hoxie, the assistant engineer of the District, in his annual report discusses a number of Important subjects. In regard to the reclamation of the Potomac Plats the report states that the plan of Major Twining for the new river-front, outlined in The Republican some time ago, contemplates what the river is doing fiself. A sandy flat is forming in front of the city because the main channel is wider here than the matter. He told Senators to-day that he had necessary. It is only needed to fill this sufficiently no further nominations to send in, and so far as he was concerned the Senate could adjourn at any moment without embarrasment to him. P. S.—The above-mentioned Flour is CERES, the celebrated Minnesota Patent Process Flour, which was awarded the first premium against all other competitors at the National Fair in 1879 and 1890 (gold medal), and now again in 1881. The competition in Flour was certainly a very lively one this year, and the premium was well contested for, but if was simply an impossibility to beat CERES, and the above premium place well contested for, but if was simply an impossibility to beat CERES, and the above premium lists awarded is only adding another tritumple to the magnificent success this so celebrated Flour has gained in this community.

We would also respectfully mention the fact that Mrs. S. F. Anderson received the first premium for the kandismiest role and blesulfa on exhibition, and the standard of the first premium for the kandismiest role and blesulfa on exhibition, and the premium that the standard A. No. 1 among the best
